The Narrows garden

This garden was designed as an example of an average suburban garden.

Sometimes they have an unusual shape and are often narrow. Here the plot has been divided into three main spaces. 'The Narrows' is suitable for a family allowing them to sit and dine together or each enjoy their own space.

Making good use of a long thin plot!

The first is calming as the occupant leaves the house, forgetting their problems as the walk over the deck that edges the shallow pond. As they are guided round the area there are numerous flowering combinations to see, including those planted within the wall units.

As you enter the next room, a stainless steel sculptural feature greets you. There is a partition fence that pierces the planted border and provides seclusion for the sleeper bench. The lawn is a sufficient size for various activities such as a child's play area but certainly doesn't dominate the garden.

The third area is totally enclosed by a horizontally slatted fence, and has a matching sculptural feature within the fencing. You enter the space via a 'twisted' pergola. This part of the garden is for dining and entertaining with a paved surface and a low raised planter. Climbing plants soften one of the boundaries with planted borders on the other two.

My name is Phillippa Probert a Garden Designer from the Wirral. I have won a number of awards for my gardens and I have also appeared on BBC Television in "Passion For Plants". I love what I do and take pride in every project I complete.
