MY NAME'S DODDIE
foundation

The My Name's Doddie Show Garden is a deeply symbolic and sensory-rich space designed to honor the My Name's Doddie Foundation's fight against Motor Neuron Disease (MND).

Each element of the garden, from the louvered roof pergola to the sculptural screens inspired by rugby posts, is infused with meaning. The number 5 motif throughout the garden pays tribute to the foundation, while the planting scheme reflects the Tartan pattern, adding vibrancy and life.

The garden's design offers a journey through the experiences of MND patients and their families, symbolized by the varied heights and sizes of the modular walls and planters. It's a place of reflection, unity, and remembrance, providing a path of strength and a long road ahead, each signifying the ongoing battle against MND.

This garden transcends traditional landscaping, serving as a living embodiment of hope and perseverance.

In 2017, rugby legend Doddie Weir founded the My Name's 5 Doddie Foundation to combat Motor Neuron Disease (MND), a neurological disorder that affects motor neurons crucial for muscle control. The foundation's mission is to create a world free of MND through research, support, awareness, sustainability, and love, fun & hope. They provide financial aid and promote research, aiming to reduce MND's impact and drive positive change in patient perception and treatment.
